Requirements for the C Configuration

1. The Project Intelligence Officer, [] indicated that the C configuration was expected to be operational about 1 June 1957 and that it would be helpful to Operations to have requirements for the use of the C configuration by 15 May 1957.

2. It was the wish of the Committee that prior to attempting to develop requirements for this configuration there should be a briefing indicating its capabilities; otherwise, the requirements could not be meaningful. The Chairman requested the representative from HTAUTOMAT to be in touch with the office of Operations to arrange for securing illustrative materials at such time as Operations believed that it had completed the testing program and to arrange for a briefing on the capabilities of the C configuration for those interested in the community much as had been earlier presented []
